

Reserve and Seasonal Police Officer

Town of New Shoreham

The New Shoreham Police Department is currently accepting applications for Reserve and Seasonal Police Officers. These positions are highly flexible and there is no minimum or maximum number of shifts required per week. Shift times vary and the hourly rate is $45. Housing is provided as needed at no cost to the officer. No additional benefits are included and Reserve and Seasonal officers are at-will employees.

Reserve and Seasonal Police Officers will be sworn in as members of the New Shoreham Police Department and will enforce all Rhode Island General Laws, New Shoreham ordinances and must comply with all New Shoreham Police Department rules and regulations. Qualified applicants must have completed a Rhode Island police academy, be in good standing or recently retired from a RI POST certified department. All applicants are subject to approval by the Rhode Island Police Officers Commission of Standards and Training (POST). Qualified applications must possess a valid driver's license and be legally able to carry an issued firearm.

Shifts are available immediately and will be filled through Labor Day. To be considered for a position, applicants must submit the following documents:

- Seasonal Police Officer employment application (click here).
- A cover letter that outlines law enforcement experience and training.

If retired from a law enforcement agency, please provide date of separation.

The application process will include an interview and background check.

Completed applications should be sent to mmoynihan@new-shoreham.com. Any questions can be directed to Chief Matthew C. Moynihan at mmoynihan@new-shoreham.com or (401) 255-4866.

The Town of New Shoreham is an equal opportunity employer and affords equal opportunity to all applicants for all positions without regard to race, color, religion, gender, national origin, age, disability, veteran status or any other status protected under local, state or federal laws.